PROMOTERS AND EVENT ORGANIZERS ENGAGING FOREIGN ARTISTS

The Inspector of Taxes reminds promoters and event organizers engaging foreign artists in Sint Maarten that an event may give rise to multiple tax obligations. Organizers must maintain complete, verifiable records of artist contracts and payments, event revenue, personnel and third-party payments, and event-related expenses.

Where applicable, a 10% Wage Tax applies to payments made to foreign artists. Depending on the event and its activities, additional tax obligations may apply, including Turnover Tax (TOT/BBO), Wage Tax for employees, and Article 45 of the ALL reporting obligations. The profit or loss from the event may also be subject to Income Tax or Profit Tax, depending on the organizer's legal structure.

Organizers are encouraged to maintain a complete Event File containing relevant contracts, payment records, sales information, personnel and third-party records, expense documentation, and a final Profit and Loss Statement.

Maintaining complete records helps ensure that all applicable tax obligations are properly reported and paid.
