Ministry of Public Housing, Spatial Planning, Environment and Infrastructure

The Policy Department of Public Housing, Spatial Planning, Environment and Infrastructure (VROMI) is currently looking for an enthusiastic, dynamic, experienced and well trained professional to fill the following position:

Beleidsmedewerker (Policy officer)

As a Policy Officer within the Policy Department of VROMI, you contribute to policy development and projects across the Ministry's portfolio, with a primary focus on spatial planning and development. You will work across a broad range of policy areas and projects related to the built and natural environment, including housing and commercial development, urban development, zoning (land use), public space and environment.

You prepare policy and spatial planning advice on proposed developments, including building permit applications, civil works, (government-owned) land, public spaces, and environmental matters.

You also contribute to the preparation and implementation of zoning plans and other legislation, policies, strategies and plans under VROMI, including stakeholder consultations, workshops, public hearings and the review of spatial development proposals. Where required, you may lead or coordinate policy and legislation projects.

Tasks include, but are not limited to:

- Developing, reviewing and updating policies, strategies and spatial plans;
- Preparing clear and well-supported advice on spatial development and environmental matters;
- Contributing to zoning plans, including public consultations, hearings and stakeholder coordination;
- Leading or coordinating assigned projects and monitoring their quality, planning, budget and deliverables;
- Writing project proposals for funding;
- Conducting research and analyzing relevant spatial, environmental and socio-economic information;
- Coordinating with other ministries, government departments, businesses, consultants and other stakeholders;
- Providing input for the annual budget and supporting policy implementation;
- Coordinating administrative and legal matters related to policies and spatial planning;
- Participating in interdisciplinary teams and contributing spatial planning expertise;
- Keeping up to date with developments, legislation and best practices in spatial planning and related fields;

Minimum job requirements

- Has an academic (University Bachelor or Master) or HBO education and work experience in the relevant areas of Spatial/Urban Planning, Urban Design, Social Geography or Housing.
- Know-how and experience with Geographic Information Systems (GIS) is an advantage.
- Work experience in a similar position within a municipality or spatial planning consultancy.
- Knowledge of (Sint Maarten) administrative law, theory and policy regarding spatial planning, procedures and their application in the field.
- Demonstrates strong verbal and written communication skills in English.
- Proficiency in Dutch is considered an asset.
- Has a good sense of administrative / political relations.
- Is good at setting priorities.
- Is result-oriented, accurate and integer.
- Can work well independently or in a team setting, with minimal supervision.
- Proficient in MS Office.

The salary amount, depending on relevant knowledge and experience is minimum Cg 5,298 and maximum Cg. 9,011 gross per month, for a complete workweek of 40 hours.
