INTERPARLIAMENTARY KINGDOM CONSULTATION (IPKO)

The Inter Parliamentary Kingdom Consultation (IPKO) is a meeting that takes place twice a year where delegations from the Parliaments of the four countries within the Kingdom meet and discuss a number of issues such as energy, health care, integrity, education, etc. The meeting in January is always hosted by one of the Caribbean countries of the Kingdom whilst the meeting in June is hosted by the Netherlands.

The intention of these meetings is to discuss issues that are of common interest or affect the populations of the countries in one way or the other. In addition to that it is a good opportunity for the parliamentarians to meet their peers from the other countries within the Kingdom to establish that personal contact. Preparations for these meetings start sometimes months in advance and technologies like video conferencing are used for such.

At the end of each IPKO, a list of agreements is signed by the delegation leader of each delegation. Throughout the year, the execution of the agreements made are monitored by each country.

TRIPARTITE

The three Caribbean countries of the Kingdom, Aruba, Curaçao and Sint Maarten, meet every so often in a Tripartite meeting to discuss issues of common interest. These meetings can be held in any of the three countries. Most recently the Tripartite agreed to meet four (4) times per year, three (3) times in person and one (1) time virtually.

IPKO and Tripartite meetings are scheduled to take place from February 19 – 23, 2026 with Aruba as host Country. A delegation from the Parliament of Sint Maarten, comprising the President of Parliament, Members of the Committee of Kingdom Affairs and Interparliamentary Relations and the Secretary General of Parliament, will be participating in these discussions.
